

J.D./M.B.A. DEGREE PROGRAM AND BUSINESS CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

Macon ... the Right Connections with a Mercer M.B.A.

Stetson School of Business and Economics

The Mercer University Stetson School of Business and Economics M.B.A. program in Macon offers a flexible evening format and an intimate graduate setting, providing students with an opportunity to develop strong connections with each other, the faculty and the business community. With its focus on ethical leadership and problem-solving skills, Mercer's M.B.A. program in Macon enables students to make connections between business theory and its practical application.

J.D./M.B.A. Admissions Procedures

Both schools have collaborated to offer strong combined programs in law and business. Admissions to the J.D./M.B.A. program is quite simple. Any applicant to the program must indicate on the application to the Law School his/her intent to also apply to the School of Business and Economics. Both units will share the information in the application, including required standardized test scores (LSAT and GMAT). The applicant must be admitted separately by each school. No person will be admitted to the Law School merely because he or she has been admitted to the regular M.B.A. program, and no person will be admitted to the M.B.A. program merely because he or she has been admitted to the Law School.

Curriculum Requirements

Neither the J.D. nor the M.B.A. degree will be awarded to a student until he or she has completed the requirements set forth in the joint program for both degrees. A student who abandons either part of the joint program must complete all of the requirements for the other degree before receiving that degree. In the case of the Law School, this would mean the completion of all regular graduation requirements for the J.D. degree as if the student never applied for the joint J.D./M.B.A. program.

The J.D. Degree

The J.D. portion of the joint program will embody the following requirements to be completed within the Law School:

- 1. A total of 79 semester hours of academic credit.
- 2. Completion of all required courses.
- 3. Uninterrupted enrollment in the first year of law school.

Walter F. George School of Law

The Mercer University Walter F. George School of Law is one of the oldest law schools in the country, founded in 1873. The School of Law has earned a reputation as a high-quality provider of legal education with an intense focus on student/faculty interaction. The Law School's model curriculum was honored with the Gambrell Professionalism Award from the American Bar Association for its "depth and excellence" and "obvious commitment to professionalism."

4. No less than six semesters of residence in the Law School. For the purpose of determining residence only, courses taken in the School of Business and Economics will be included with courses in the Law School during any term in which the student actually takes courses in both the Law School and the School of Business and Economics.

The present graduation requirement for the regular J.D. program in the Law School is 91 semester hours. A total of 34 of these hours is completed in the first year, leaving 57 hours for the last two years (four semesters). The joint program allows a reduction of upper division Law School hours to 45. The 45 upper-division hours might be divided over as many as six semesters. No student in the joint program will be allowed to spend more than 17 semester hours in class in any week.

The M.B.A. Degree

The M.B.A. curriculum is divided into two parts: foundation areas and core areas. The foundation areas are really pre-requisites for the program; these are often satisfied by students' undergraduate programs of studies. If not, they can be satisfied at Mercer.

Foundation Areas:

MAT 226: Elementary Statistical Methods (waived by an approved undergraduate course with a grade of "C" or better). Students are also required to take, and score at a satisfactory level, the Statistics Skills Test prior to registering for BAM 622.

ECN 150: Principles of Microeconomics (waived by an approved undergraduate course with a grade of "C" or better)

FIN 362: Principles of Finance (waived by an approved undergraduate course with a grade of "C" or better)

18 undergraduate semester credit hours in business with a grade of "C" or better. (This requirement may be met by completing three semester graduate elective hours for every six semester undergraduate hours required.) For J.D./M.B.A. students, this requirement can be satisfied with courses taken in the J.D. program (e.g., Law 116, Law 202, and others at the discretion of the M.B.A. Program Director)

Working knowledge of spreadsheet, word-processing, and presentation software.

Core Courses:

BAM 602: Financial Reporting and Analysis
BAM 604: Operations Management
BAM 606: Applied Microeconomic Analysis
BAM 608: Global Macroeconomic Environment

BAM 608: Global Macroeconomic Environment BAM 610: Manager and the Legal Environment of Business

(waived for Law 107)

BAM 612: Corporate Financial Management

BAM 614: Accounting for Control BAM 616: Management and Leadership

BAM 618: Advanced Seminar in Business Ethics (waived for Law 149)

BAM 620: Seminar in Strategic Management

BAM 699: M.B.A. Capstone

A Sample Course of Study:

Below is a sample of a course of study that would permit a student to complete the joint J.D./M.B.A. degree course requirements in three years. This is only a sample and is not intended as the only path to completion of the joint degree program. Instead, the deans of the law school and business school (or their respective designates) are expected to work with students to develop and approve alternative courses of study for those students who choose not to follow this example. Any alternative course of study must adhere to law school and business school requirements, as modified by the requirements for the joint degree program. Also, it is expected that even this sample course of study may need modification in the event that either the business school or the law school alter aspects of their respective educational programs.

Business Certificate Programs

Students in good standing in the Walter F. George School of Law may choose to take up to three graduate courses in the Eugene W. Stetson School of Business and Economics (SSBE) without applying for admission to the Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) program. Currently, two specific combinations of courses can be taken for a certificate.

Certificate in Practice Management

BAM 604: Operations Management BAM 614: Accounting for Control BAM 616: Management and Leadership

Certificate in Corporate Finance

BAM 602: Financial Reporting & AnalysisBAM 612: Corporate Financial ManagementBAM 614: Accounting for Control

Students who receive one of these certificates will have his or her law school graduation requirement reduced by a maximum of six credits, which at present would be from 91 to 85 credits.

To enroll in a certificate program, students should notify the Registrar in the law school of their intention. The two year plan and current semester class schedule for the M.B.A. courses are available online at www.stetson.mercer.edu. To register for a specific class, students will simply use the online registration form, also available at the Macon M.B.A. website.
